A BURIAL AT TWILIGHT.

(The following composition, written by a citizen of Frankfort, was first published a few years ago; and, there having been several requests recently that it be republished, the author has kindly furnished us with the copy, and we gladly give it space in our paper.—Editor.)

The writer recently had occasion to visit our beautiful cemetery late in the afternoon, and while in that peaceful retreat witnessed the close of a perfect autumn day.

"The day was over,
Had pass'd through the evening's golden gates;
While a single star in the cloudless blue,
For the rising moon in silence waits."

Standing upon the outermost edge of the overhanging cliff, and looking down, I see the splendor of the beautiful Kentucky, like a burnished silver ribbon glistening through the green and golden foliage lining its banks, until, away in the distance, the mountains loom dim amid the rugged hills. Down beneath you an hundred feet or more, in a valley that to be seen once is to be remembered always, lies the quiet and beautiful little city of Frankfort, camouflaged in dreamy twilight, and stretching its length from the western hills. And now, as it grows darker, and the air grows chill, the twittering birds cease their chatter and seek the deepest shades, for they know the quiet hours of darkness are come. Look! Like the reflection of the stars upon the oceanic tranquil bosom, you see the lights of the city appear, one by one. You hear no more the ceaseless hum of industry and traffic, and the hawks and moths are silently winding their way to home and rest. Hark! What sound is that which breaks upon this solemn stillness? The steady and regular tread of horses' feet and the grand sweep of the great, gray paved roadway tells the coming of a tenant to this silent city. Tingling the tops of the sentinel pines with a golden halo of mellow light the redoubtable moonbeams, like diamonds into spray, in the eastern sky, masking the shadowy darkness, and casting a weird spell over all the scene. How strange! How sad!

We desire to return our sincere thanks to the friends who did so much for us during the recent illness and death of our beloved son and brother, Coleman Hulette. The floral offerings sent were beautiful and appropriate. We will always remember your kindness.

CARD OF THANKS.

We have been placed under obligations to Rev. George Darsie for a file of the late Mobile and New Orleans papers. He will please accept our thanks for the same.

formed by loving hands, and the mound of earth heaped over the loved one, the flowers strewn upon the grave, the last prayer said, and the broken hearted living turn back to the world and leave their loved one sleeping in the silent moonbeams. Such scenes are soon done with; such scenes are seen, why it should not yet be, instantly to bury our dead at twilight, so it could be no more fitting time for such a ceremony than the close of day, a symbolic of the close of the life just ended. "Tis more impressive at that hour than at any other, and draws from the human heart the purest of feelings, and the soul of man gets nearer to his God.

THE ROUNDER.

FEARFUL ODDS AGAINST HIM.

Bodily pain and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Hayes, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried feet in short order and now he testifies, "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 50¢. Guaranteed by all drugists.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

As death has again visited our Chapter and taken another of our most worthy and beloved chapter members and friends, Mrs. Lucy E. Davy, therefore, be it Resolved, That we, the members of the Joseph H. Lewis Chapter, U. D. C., humbly, but in submission to Him who doth all things for His own glory, yet we deeply lament the demise of our worthy member.

Resolved, That while we mourn the decease of our friend and member, we extend our sympathy to her bereaved daughters and relatives.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Roundabout and be filed on the records of the chapter, and that a copy be sent to her family.

BY JOSEPH H. LEWIS CHAPTER, U. D. C.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Bitter. Scrofulous disease covered my body. I remained bedridden. Dr. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Chas. Hutton, Berville, Mich.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

This is Frankfort Testimony and Will Stand Investigation.

If you doubt the following and wish to investigate, you haven't to go to some other State in the Union to prove it. It's not a long story published in Frankfort newspapers about a kidney trouble patient, Mich., or Tampa, Fla. It's about a resident of Frankfort and given in his own words. No stronger proof can be had.

J. P. Taylor, of 344 Madison street, engaged in trade, now retires, says: "For nigh on the thirty-five years I was subject to pain and weakness in my back. The trouble I know came from my kidneys especially from the left one, this being the most affected. At times I could scarcely rise after kneeling or stooping and often when walking sharp pain would take me in my left side so as to nearly cause me to fall. The weakness in the kidneys operation was very annoying, especially at night, and it disturbed my rest. For years at off-recurring intervals I took various medicines which all penetringly failed to give the relief I wanted. I then learned of Dr. Doan's Kidney Pills which were prepared by me at J. W. Doan's drug store. They were right to the cause of the trouble and removed it. I will always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to my friends as a remedy that can be depended upon."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

FREE FIGHT.

A free for all fight occurred in the horse trading lot, in the lower part of the city, on Monday afternoon. In which quite a number of men engaged. Bloody noses and blackened eyes were the rule.

Free candidate's whisky was the cause of the Donny Brook Fair.

DO YOU WANT STRENGTH?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the body must be well digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues, before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the body. It is a tonic, especially to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State would not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time.

Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and courageous in your personal actions. You can't live in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a popular medicine for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all drugstores.

A CHINESE HONEYMOON.

Will be Presented at Capital Theatre, Friday, March 18.

"A Chinese Honeymoon" will receive its initial performance in Frankfort at Capital Theatre, Friday, March 18. "A Chinese Honeymoon" is the work of George Dance, who wrote the book and lyrics, and Howard Talbot, who is responsible for the music. Its plot which is interesting and clearly defined, follows the adventures of an Englishman, Samuel Pineapple, and his bride who go to Ylang Ylang on their honeymoon. The bride, being extremely jealous, insists upon taking her eight bridesmaids along to watch her husband. Arriving in Ylang Ylang, the husband, being too pronounced in his admiration for the Princess Sou Sou, raises his wife's ire, and she, for revenge, flirts with a Chinaman, who is smitten with her charms. It happens that this Chinaman is Haing Chow, the Emperor of Ylang Ylang, who is in search of a wife, and when he kisses her, the empress, according to local law, is a betrothed and a marriage must take place the same day. Mr. Pineapple deepens the difficulty by kissing the Princess and thus there are two betrothals and two weddings imminent. From this situation a number of complications are developed and plenty of fun is extracted from the mix-up before the matters are finally straightened out. As an accompaniment to this diverting, though by no means cumbersome story, Mr. Talbot has furnished some excellent music which ripples along in pleasant style.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 12, 1903

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF THE CITY.

Owing to the fact that the hotels of the city have about exhausted their capacity in arranging for the entertainment of the Knights Templar of the State, at their approaching Grand Conclave, May 18-19, 1904, the committee of arrangements have to appeal to the good people of this city to open their doors for Knights Templar and their ladies.

It is earnestly requested that those having accommodations will notify the Committee on Entertainment, care of the Frankfort Drug Co., or the Secretary of the Committee, Dr. F. W. Keyes, as to the number of Knights and ladies they can entertain, or whether Sir Knights only, from the evening of May 17th until the morning of May 20th, giving price.

We are confident that there will be a ready response to this appeal.

COUNTY COURT DAY.

Monday was county court day and, in the early part, was so raw and rainy that but few people were in the city, but, by noon, there was a good crowd present.

There was more than the ordinary quantity of stock on the market.

Good horses were in demand and the buying was brisk and good prices paid. Plugs and inferior stock sold at almost any price.

Cattle offered were generally in poor condition and, of course, did not sell well. Cows and calves also ruled low.

A KNIGHT OF COLUMBIA.

By General Charles King—A Story of the War.

In this charming and romantic novel, General King seems to have surpassed all previous efforts. His hero, a graduate of Columbia College, first meets the reader in the Academy of Music, New York City, on the occasion of Commencement Day, in 1861, at the breaking out of the war. His magnificent speech, "A Menace to the Flag," delivered on that occasion, full of the fire of patriotism, created the most intense excitement the vast audience expressing their approval or otherwise according to their political preferences, for as yet the question of "which flag" was unsettled in the hearts of many. Then comes his enlistment, and he is fully launched on the troubled seas of those stirring times. His varied fortunes are closely followed, both in love and war, there being two fervent love stories running through the entire book. The plot is intricate and exciting, holding the reader in a tight grasp from start to finish. The historical scenes of battle are depicted in a manner worthy of this talented author, who now tells for the first time, "The Truth About Chancellorsville," narrating the ill-fated Eleventh Corps from the olio that has always been heaped upon it, thus flatly contradicting previous accounts. This alone will be of great interest to soldier and also to civilian. The atrocities of the mob during the draft riots in New York come in for stirring descriptions, and altogether the story is one "to warm the cockles of the heart" and arouse that healthy and vigorous enthusiasm that we all enjoy.

Doctors say neuralgia is not dangerous. This is poor consolation to a sufferer who feels as if his face were pierced with hot needles and torn with a thousand pairs of pincers. Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

When the nervous system has been shattered by the use of deadly drugs there is nothing to equal Dr. Miles' Nervine in restoring health and normal activity.

"I feel so satisfied for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has done for me that I must tell it for that part of humanity that suffers as I have." During the three years I have been a sufferer from all sorts of nervous trouble except when doctors gave morphine. To get rid of suffering I took morphine myself as it was the only thing that would give me any relief. Now, however, I have given up morphine using, how could you when in such agony, knowing it about the only thing that gives great relief, reading the news it was a terrible habit, but I knew of its deadly grasp, but I never fully realized its significance until I had used it a number of times. One day I was so bad that all sorts of ways, I resolved then and there to quit it and I resolved I would never be a slave to any such habit again. About this time I happened to see Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine advertised and ordered a bottle. After using five bottles I can truly say I am cured of almost all my nervous trouble. No one I have told of my cure, however, but a few persons may doubt it, God is my witness I am cured. This testimonial is unshaken but I feel my health given me by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the best guarantee for the user."—MATTIE PHILLIPS, Freeport, Ark.

GET OUT THE FAMILY TREE.

George Washington's Heirs to Sue
For Millions.

Claim Part of Philadelphia and Washington to Say Nothing of Georgia and Kentucky.

Several suits which will probably be instituted within the next few months in the States of Pennsylvania, Georgia and Kentucky and which will involve many millions of dollars as many hundreds of persons, and will also have the effect of locating every possible connection now living of the late General George Washington's lineage. His heirs and those interested in the various claims to be contested. Although no property in the city of Baltimore will figure in the suits, the city is one of the really large interest, inasmuch as many Baltimoreans are concerned in the claimants.

The claims are based upon a yearly lease, which was given by the late Joseph King, of Virginia, a Virginian, to George Washington's mother, and land in the above-mentioned sections of the country about 90 years ago, and which, in consequence, expires in a short time. The value of this property, at the present time, runs up in hundreds of millions. The tract which lies in the State of Pennsylvania was, in Mr. Ball's day, open country, but is now covered by a large part of the city of Philadelphia, and this claimant will aggregate many millions of dollars. Next to the Philadelphia claim, a similar one upon land in the city of Washington is the largest. As in Philadelphia, the property concerned in Washington claim represents in value millions of dollars, and although the exact boundary lines have not been located, it is known that the land is part of the valuable real estate in the city. While the land in King and Georgia is not as valuable as that in the cities of Washington and Philadelphia, in area it is much larger, and will prove to be an immeasurable amount, even if settled in a moderate manner, should the claimants be successful.

Scott's Emulsion for bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

Ball died in bedchamber, and left his estate to his four sisters and one half-sister, Mary Washington. Little is generally known regarding the different branches of the family tree. It is also known, though, that both of Mrs. Washington's sons, George and Lawrence, had no descendants, the former leaving no issue, while the only child of the latter died in its infancy. The number and names of the other sisters' children, whose descendants from the heirs, is a matter which will have to be traced out.

Just what steps will be taken to gain possession of the property have not been definitely decided upon, but a great conference is taking place between the heirs just at the present time, however, and it is probable that a meeting of all those concerned will be held in the city of Washington in the near future.

The grandmother of the proprietor of this paper and of the editor of this paper was the great-granddaughter of Hannah Ball, a full sister of the Joseph Ball mentioned in the above article.

We are in receipt, through the courtesy of a relative, of a copy of the Buffalo (N. Y.) It shows the wonderful business facilities of the city and its progressive business men. It makes a very handsome showing.

AN INVALUABLE PAPER.

The Kentucky Farmer and Breeder, published at Lexington, Ky., is evidently going to fill a position in Kentucky journalism which no other paper has ever tried to fill. It covers every department of both live stock and general farm interests—thoroughbred, trotting horse, saddle horse, cattle, sheep, general farm interests.

SPEECH OF HON. G. W. SHADON, OF PULASKI COUNTY.

The following is the speech prepared by Hon. G. W. Shadon for delivery at the Capitol Banquet, Tuesday, March 1, but which was not delivered owing to the lateness of the hour and Mr. Shadon's poor health compelling him to leave the hall:

Mr. Toastmaster, some one has said, "Breathe there a man with soul so dead, that he's to himself, hath said, this is my own, my native land, and while I am sure Dr. [sic] to whom as I heard the response to this toast, could have done so more satisfactorily than myself, yet in deference to the request of the committee on programme, of which I understand you are the chairman, and in response to the promptings of my own heart, I will undertake this duty.

When I try to properly represent "the mountains" I find that language fails me. The inspiration of the poet, and the skill of the artist alone can fully portray them in all their lofty grandeur, and magnificent beauty. Of Kentucky it can be said "Her glorious mountains kiss the skies, her streams chant at her feet, for her the days were made of dyes, and nights their vigils keep."

Kentucky would not be Kentucky without her everlasting hills and mountains. They are to her what the storm-charged clouds are to the sky. The clouds sweep impetuously through the heavens, the deep thunder peals shake the firmaments and they send down their refreshing showers upon the trembling earth, like a fond mother's tears upon the face of her child, quenching the fire that burns away. The sun comes out and its life-giving light floods the earth like a sweet smile from the West, and all nature rejoices in newness of life. Kentucky, brave, proud, happy, beautiful, Kentucky, thou art the heart of this great union of States.

As the bosom of the mother not only adds beauty to the form, but affords nourishment to the child, so Kentucky, like a great mother, is in all her beauty, with the beautiful blue grass counties in her lap, and the glorious mountains as her breasts, from which the other States as her children can derive sustenance. The union of the mind if half wronged? It does destroy in order to renew, and lays heavily its desolating hand to improve. But time can never destroy the stupendous handiwork of nature and of nature's God in the mountains of Kentucky, and make them. These everlasting mountains are as lasting as time itself, and will not to each other in the clouds throughout the endless cycles of eternity. Like a beautiful necklace of costly pearls adorning the neck of a lovely woman, radiant in her beauty, while the blue grass counties rest in the lap of our mother State, the purchase lovingly nestling in her feet, while "the mountains" cluster around her like a wall, and their peaks sparkle and scintillate in the light of the rising sun like the morning star in its soft fading beauty, while the "Penrymire" fills the atmosphere in which she rests with a sound sweeter than perfume, and fragrant than ever was to mortal, the richest perfume of Araucaria the blest.

Within these massive bosoms nature has stored away for use of future ages, and after protracted ages and their valuable ore in inexhaustible quantities, while lakes and rivers of oil course through her heart and arteries sending life and light to the remotest States. When other States shall have abdicated their power, Kentucky will have become the den of wild beasts and the abiding place of deadly serpents, and the inhabitants of those States shall come to Kentucky for supplies as the sons of Jacob went to Egypt for corn, then will it be known that we have resources sufficient not only to supply the wants and needs of our sister States, but for great foreign countries, and the isles of the sea.

"The mountain" forests that stand with giant arms outstretched, shall furnish material for the homes of the families of earth, and the stems of timber that grow on these mountain sides, and glide through sunshine and shadow to the ocean, shall furnish power to move the machinery of a thrifty State, and light the homes and cities of her people. Not only this, but the people of "the mountains," that are true Kentuckians, love their native State.

"For her ten thousand sons would raise,

The arm against every foreign

And seal the lips with prayer and praise,

And let the life blood flow."

Their duty to future generations, and the respect they have for our illustrations, we create a desire in our State, and to love their native State, and to use the advantages given them by their generous brothers in more favored parts of the State, in improving their virtues and graces, so as to make good the name of Kentuckians.

..DEATHS..

WATSON—In Louisville, on Feb. 28, Mr. John Watson, son of the late Mr. Jas. R. Watson, aged 35 years.

Mr. Watson was born and raised in this city and has many friends here. He was a splendid engraver. He leaves a widow, but no children.

MARSHALL—At the home of her father, on East Main street, on Monday afternoon, Virginia Marshall, daughter of Mr. L. B. Marshall and wife, aged 7 years.

This dear little girl had been a patient suffering nearly all her short life, and death came as a sweet release to her tired heart.

By her gentle disposition and patience under intense pain she had won the hearts of all who knew her, and was the idol of her mother, father and sister.

The fragrance of her pure little life will linger long in our hearts.

She leaves a mother, father and sister with anguished hearts to view the vacant place in their home.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. B. Chinin, from the Chapel of Ascension Church, on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after which the remains were laid away in our cemetery.

The tenderest sympathy is extended the sadly bereft.

GOIN—At his home, in Woodford county, near Jett's, on Saturday, Mr. S. W. Goin, aged 60 years, of heart failure, caused by grip.

Mr. Goin was born and raised in this city and was the son of the late Capt. S. W. Goin and wife, and was a brother of Mrs. John H. Triplett, of this city.

Mr. Goin was a gentleman of good and many character, firm in his convictions of duty and courageous in discharging them.

He was a member of Gracey Springs Christian Church. He leaves a wife who was a Miss Newbold, five sons, two daughters, one sister, one half-sister and one half-brother, besides a large circle of relatives to mourn his untimely death.

The funeral services were conducted from the Millville Christian Church, by Rev. J. K. P. Smith, on Sunday afternoon, at 1.30 o'clock, and the remains were laid to rest in the family lot in our cemetery.

We have known Mr. Goin all his life and he was our warm personal friend. We lament his death.

SCOTT—In Sherman, Texas, on Tuesday, Dr. John Orlando Scott, aged 63 years, as the result of an operation.

Dr. Scott was the youngest son of the late Col. Robt. W. Scott. He was our schoolmate and friend in boyhood days.

He was educated at the famous school of Col. B. B. Sayre, in this city, afterward attending Centre College, Danville.

When the civil war came on he, like about half of our boyhood friends, enlisted in the Confederate army, as a surgeon, having studied medicine and located in Owen county for its practice.

He served with distinction until the close of strife, when he went abroad to complete his medical training.

Returning to Kentucky he located at Owensboro, finally removing to Sherman, in the lone star State.

He at once went to the front in his profession and maintained himself as such until the end.

Our relation as friends had never ceased, and we wish to bear testimony to the chivalry and honorable character of our lost friend.

May the clouds rest lightly on his stilled breast.

HOCKENSMITH—In this community, on Tuesday, Mr. Wm. Hocken-smith, aged 70 years.

The funeral services were conducted at North Fork Baptist Church, on Wednesday, by Rev. M. B. Adams, and the remains were interred in the cemetery at that church.

COLAHAN—After a long and painful illness, at Lambertville, New Jersey, Commander Chas. E. Colahan—A. S. N., age 54 years.

He was a native of Philadelphia, graduated from Anapolis in 1869. Married Miss Belle Hensley, of this city, September, 1886, who survives him with one son. He also leaves a daughter by former marriage. He was one of the most popular men in the navy.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we can give you about that pressing engrossing department of life with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Blosseville's German Syrup. It has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deeply you may cough, or how much you dread consumption, it attacked our lungs. German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

COMMUNICATED.

Frankfort, Franklin County, Ky., March 9, 1904.

Editor Roundabout:

Sir—Regarding your kick concerning the receipt of Frankfort mail at Farmdale, Ky., I have to advise that the establishment of rural delivery service from Lawrenceburg through Farmdale to Elmore, Ky., beginning January 1, 1904, caused the Department to discontinue service via Route No. 2 from this office to the Farmdale postoffice, as it lapped the route from Lawrenceburg for a considerable distance.

Since March 1st the Farmdale postoffice has been supplied twice daily with star route service from Alton, Ky., on the Southern Railroad.

About two weeks ago I recommended the re-establishment of rural service to Farmdale and my request is now before the Department for action.

The patrons of the Farmdale office evidently left out of consideration the value of their Frankfort mail, while seeking additional service.

Very respectfully,

E. M. DRANE, P. M.
[Thank you Captain. We knew it was not your fault.—Editor.]

LATEST RADIUM REPORT.

The latest marvel reported by the patient and ingenious students who are exploring the mysteries of radium comes from Ann Arbor, where a professor of the University of Michigan has found that by surrounding a little radium with pure water the fluid is soon charged with radio-activity to such an extent that it stops the pain of cancers almost instantly, and it seems to promise the healing of several cases which are being treated with water so energized. Obviously, it is too early to make very positive claims for radium as a curative agency, but the indications are very auspicious.

The certainty is that radium is so different from other substances and other forces that accepted views of the physical world must be revised, and unknown and unmeasured possibilities are larger and more impressive than they seemed not many months since, in the eye of science. What has been learned of radium is simply enough to prove that very little is yet understood of the earth beneath our feet.

We are still only experimenters, touching the dim edges of momentous truths. Every point of vantage gained widens the fields yet to be won.

COSMOPOLITAN.

Are we on the eve of a perfectly safe and ideally delightful travel through the air? This is what "The Cosmopolitan" discusses in a sixteen-page article in its March issue. The most elaborate presentation of the subject of aerial navigation from a scientific and historical point of view that has ever been presented in a magazine. No less than twenty-nine illustrations, showing all phases of its evolution, are printed.

An article showing how the daily newspapers, the country merchant, the big and little stores of the city and the manufacturer, all would benefit by a postal-parcels law in the United States, corresponding with that of England or more particularly those of Germany and Austria, is "The Cosmopolitan" for March. It shows that the merchants of the United States are paying six thousand per cent. more for postal-parcels delivery than those of Germany and other countries. It is calculated that there would be a saving of from two to four hundred millions a year to the national wealth by intelligent legislation on this subject.

FRANKLIN COUNTY FARMER BILLED.

Mr. W. M. Petty, living in the upper edge of this county, was en route to California, on Wednesday, when he was ushered out of his pocketbook in a Louisville restaurant. The pocketbook contained $140 in money, tickets to California, notes and accounts all amounting to $672 in value.

Petty will be a wiser man in future.

DAMAGED BY HEAVY WIND.

The heavy wind of Thursday afternoon was especially heavy at Chantilly. The front verandah of the residence of Mr. Jas. T. Duvall was torn away and smashed to kindling wood inflicting damages to about $150. Strange to say although other places were shaken up, nothing was blown down.

In this issue of our paper may be found the regular spring advertisement of Messrs. Weitzel & O'Donnell. They have an especially attractive stock of new spring goods and are offering them at very reasonable prices. Call and see them.

COOKING SCHOOL.

Mrs. W. A. Johnson, of Paris, Ky., will open a cooking school on Tuesday, March 15th, at 2 o'clock at 138 St. Clair street, John L. Scott's old office.

The term consists of six lessons, giving from four to six dishes at each lesson. She prepares, cooks, garnishes and serves the dishes in the presence of the class. Price of season tickets is $2.50. Single lessons 50 cents. The ladies are invited to come and bring a saucer and spoon with them.

WHAT IS LIFE?

In the last analysis, nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly readjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25¢ at all drug-gists.

Dr. Weaver's Treatment.

Syrup of the blood; Cures for skin eruptions.

PROFITABLE GARDENING

THE early vegetable gets the highest price. If you plant seeds this are profitable as well as early, you insure the most profitable results from your garden. That is precisely the kind of seeds you will get from the early mail order. Every individual seed in our 1904 stock was grown in 1903, and is, therefore, full of vitality. A seed that is left over from year to year loses part of its vitality, hence the necessity of using only absolutely fresh seed for early market vegetables—or for any other purpose for that matter.

Early vegetable gardens cost no more than the doubtful kind, and planting them insures certain success—why take any chances?
